

ABSTRACT

To provide particles for supporting a surfactant which are excellent in the supporting ability (supporting capacity/supporting strength) of the liquid surfactant composition and a process for preparing the same; detergent particles prepared by using the particles for supporting a surfactant; and a detergent composition comprising the detergent particles. According to the present invention, there are provided particles for supporting a surfactant having excellent supporting abilities (supporting capacity/supporting strength) of a surfactant composition; detergent particles having high quality and high deterging performance, and further having excellent hue; and a detergent composition comprising the detergent particles.
